

Do you think that a tool such as this would be helpful to you?

2 responses

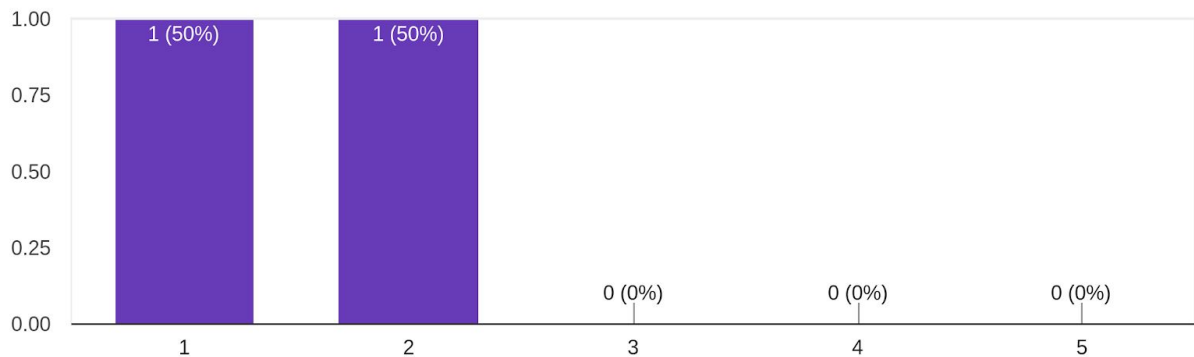

Do you think that using emotions to replace video when it is not available would make you feel more connected to the other person?

2 responses

Do you feel that ease of use is more valuable to this system or more options to use?

2 responses

What about the prototypes do you feel is useful. (please specify which prototype you are talking about for your points)

1 response

Black button with red turns people off

What parts of the prototypes do you feel were not useful? (please specify which prototype you are talking about for your points)

2 responses

It should not matter to the person being questioned to be pleasing to the person being questioned

The on off toggles

Do you feel that the prototypes lacked anything that would make video conferencing easier to you?

2 responses

I would enjoy watching the process of developing a prototype.

No